PLAYLETS FEATURE PROGRESS SESSION

Three One-Act Dramatic Translations Given Before Woman's Club.

There was genuine merit and historic ability demonstrated by members comprising the casts of three one-act plays given Saturday afternoon and evening at the Progress club under the sponsorship of the literature department, section two.

The three plays were dramatic translations of the well known short stories by American authors. The repertoire consisted of "Barker's Luck" by Bert Harbo; "The Transferred Ghost" by Frank Stockton; "The Gals Dress" by Mary E. Wilkins Freeman. The short story as a type of literature has composed the study of the department during the year and followed an intense study of the drama. As a practical application of the work pursued during the recent years, the department conceived the idea of dramatizing several short stories for production and the presentations Saturday realized the completion of earnest endeavors on the part of several members of the department.

"Barker's Luck," by that local color artist, Bert Harbo, lost none of its native charm and sturdy character as interpreted Saturday by Miss Alma Collier as George Barker; Miss Helen Hill as Jack Demorest; Miss Marie Meyer as Jim Stacy; Mrs. W. H. Campbell as Carter and Miss Ruth Kues as Kitty Carter. The scene of the story is laid in a western mining camp and treats of one poignant incident in the life of George Barker. The play was dramatized by Miss Alma Collier. For sincere characterization work the performers left nothing to be desired. There was indeed in that number as well as the others a noticeable lack of jarring, nervous qualities, lifting the entire performance far above the amateur.

Of a whimsical vein was the "Transferred Ghost," involving in plot the replacing of a lost ghostship. Miss Alma Hardman as the ghost took the lead and mastered the situation in an admirable fashion. She was ably supported by Mrs. C. Mont Smith as Richard Carter and Mrs. Gates Harpel as Madeline Hinchman.

Mary E. Wilkins Freeman in her portrayal of New England spinster life is an artist and the players Saturday gave sympathetic interpretation to the author's purpose. Mrs. William Mansour Jr., as Elizabeth Babcock, the typical New England "maiden lady" was genuinely enjoyable as was Mrs. George Gelsler, as Emily, her sister and Mrs. Victor Jones as Mattias Jenkins.

Stage committees were: Mrs. William Laven, Mrs. Hester Rostee, Mrs. A. W. Kendall, Mrs. L. A. Wood, Miss Sarah Wilwer and Miss Mary Russ. In general charge of the two programs was Mrs. Milo Hodson, chairman of the department.

Musical numbers interspersed the plays and were given by Mrs. J. A. Maloney and Mrs. W. J. Kennedy, accompanied by Mrs. Floyd Gummer.

RESUME ARBITRATION IN PACKING DISPUTE

CHICAGO, April 2.—Federal Judge Samuel Alschuler Sat. resumed arbitration of dispute between the stockyards packers and their employees affecting a settlement of the strike of 1,500 employees of the independent and William Davis packing companies.

The conference at which the strike settlement was made was the first at which Judge Alschuler was present as arbitrator since the big five packers abrogated the Alschuler wage arbitration agreement and later, at the Washington conference held by Sec'y of Labor Davis, agreed to a six months extension of the agreement.

Notre Dame

Notre Dame students enjoyed an unusual musical event Saturday evening in Washington hall when the Ernest Gamble Concert trio entertained a large audience with basso, soprano and violin selections. The trio spent 11 months in the army camps in France, have lately returned from a tour of the West Indies, and are scheduled to appear in Los Angeles, April 12.

Ernest Gamble, basso cantato, sang several numbers in a richly luxuriant voice that showed to special advantage in the bold notes of "Invictus," a musical setting of the famous "I Am the Master of My Soul," Pate, I Am the Captain of My Soul, Letha Frazier Rankin, soprano, possesses a pliantly musical voice which was especially pleasing in the piping notes of "Little Gray Dove." Nellie Richeson, youthful violinist from the Cincinnati Conservatory, made a distinct impression on the audience by her interpretation of the tuncful "Andantino" and the sonorous prelude from the "Deluge." The complete program follows:

1. Trio, "Let Us Have Peace"
2. "Welcome Sweet Wind," Miss Rankin
3. Violin, "Andantino," Miss Frazier
4. a "Invictus"
5. b "Blind Ploughman"
6. c "On the Road to Mandalay," Mr. Gamble
7. a "Little Gray Dove"
8. b "Thou Art the Night Wind"
9. c "Little Dandelion," Miss Frazier
10. Violin
11. a "Prelude from 'The Deluge'"
12. b "Pierrot's Serenade"
13. c "Perpetual Motion," Miss Rankin
14. a "The Americans Came"
15. b "At a Cornish Dance"
16. c "Molly," Miss Frazier
17. 8. "O Moment That I Bless," Miss Rankin and Mr. Gamble.

ANNUAL SESSION TO CONVEENE THIS WEEK

Evangelical Ministers to Attend Conference of Church at Ft. Wayne.

The State Evangelical conference will meet in annual session at Fort Wayne next Wednesday and will continue until the following Sunday. South Bend will be well represented at the conference, as all of the Evangelical ministers here will attend.

It is expected that the ministers will act on a probable request for funds from the conference to aid in the erection of the new Grace Evangelical church on Lincoln Way N., of which Rev. O. O. Lozier is pastor. Tentative plans for the erection of this church are already under process of formation and the consideration of this project by the conference will probably be the last move before actual construction work is undertaken.

One of the chief matters to come before the gathering of Indiana ministers is the consideration of the proposed building of the Haven Hubbard Memorial Old People's Home at New Carlisle, on 700 acres left to the general church by Mrs. Anna Hubbard, a former member of the Broadway Evangelical church of this city. Mrs. Hubbard died a short time ago. A bill providing for the erection of the building this summer will be placed before the conference for ratification.

Time, during this conference, will be taken with the assigning and changing of various ministers to parishes. No changes are in prospect for South Bend, as far as could be ascertained.

Many of this city's ministers will leave here Tuesday in order to be present at the first gathering of the Evangelical ministers on Wednesday morning.

DENY O'CALLAGHAN HIGH AUDITORIUM

Stowaway Lord Mayor Refused Right to Speak in High School Building, Said.

Donal O'Callaghan, stowaway lord mayor of Cork, Ireland, who comes to South Bend next Tuesday to deliver three addresses on conditions in Ireland will not be permitted to speak at the high school auditorium. It was intimated last night by members of the school board to representatives of Notre Dame council of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic. Application for use of the auditorium was made and while definite decision will not be made until the school board meeting on Monday night it was said that the board members were opposed to granting the use of the auditorium to O'Callaghan.

If the school auditorium is definitely refused O'Callaghan he will speak at St. Hedwig's hall, association officers asserted. In the afternoon following his arrival from Gary where he speaks on Monday, O'Callaghan will deliver addresses at St. Mary's academy and at Notre Dame university where he will speak before the faculty and student body.

O'Callaghan who succeeded the late Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney, who died from a self imposed fast in Brixton prison, London, came to America in January as a stowaway. He came to testify before the commission of 100 on conditions in Ireland, sitting in Washington. The report of the committee published several days ago placing the blame for conditions in Ireland at the hands of the British government was attacked by Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador at Washington.

It was said that members of the school board did not favor granting the use of the high school auditorium to O'Callaghan because they believed he was an agitator. His South Bend friends say that he has spoken in many high school auditoriums and municipally owned buildings in various cities and several weeks ago addressed an audience of 8,000 men and women in one of the state armories in Chicago. The school board assets that municipally buildings have also been denied O'Callaghan.

Atty. Dudley M. Shively will preside at the meeting to be held on Tuesday night. The meeting will be open to the public and no admission will be charged.

YOUNG GIRL FINDS RELIEF

Wants to Tell Other Girls All About It

Evansville, Ind.—"I am eighteen years old and have been bothered for several months with irregular periods. Every month my back would ache and I would feel drowsy and sleepy. I work in a millinery shop and I went to work every day, but felt stupid and would have such cramps, I had seen Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and had heard several women talk of it, so mother got me some. This Vegetable Compound is wonderful and it helped me very much, so that during my periods I am not now sick or drowsy. I have told many girls about it and would be glad to help anyone who is troubled with similar ailments." —STELLA LINXWILER, 6 Second St., Evansville, Ind.

Some girls lead lives of luxury, while others toil for their livelihood, but all are subject to the same physical laws and suffer in proportion to their violation. When such symptoms develop as irregularities, headaches, backaches, bearing-down sensations and "the blues," girls should profit by Miss Linxwiler's experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

Warning: Don't just ask for "tasteful epsom salts" or you may get a soda imitation. Always ask for "Epsomade Salts" and look for the name, American Epsom Association.
